RBRO is part of Raiffeisen Group, a financial group providing financial services in Austria and 15 Central Eastern European countries. Additionally, the Group comprises numerous other financial service providers, for instance in the fields of leasing, asset management as well as mergers and acquisitions. RBRO offers a wide spectrum of services and products associated with stock, derivatives and equity capital transactions. RBRO's research department (non-cash generating unit) covers Romanian companies from the business fields: steel & materials, industry, banking, construction and building materials, IT & technology, oil & gas, real estate, telecommunications, utilities and cyclical and defensive consumer sectors. In addition, RBRO covers a range of services to be provided in connection with mergers and acquisitions as well as privatizations.

RBRO's ultimate parent company is Raiffeisen Bank International AG ("RBI") (Vienna Stock Exchange; ticker RBI AV). RBI is a corporate investment bank domiciled in Austria. For many years RBI has been operating in Central and Eastern Europe (CEE), where it maintains a network of subsidiary banks, leasing companies and numerous financial service providers in several markets. Although RBI or its affiliated entities may have concluded transactions for products or services (including but not limited to investment banking services) with the subject company or companies in the past 12 months, no employee of RBI or of its affiliates has the ability to influence the substance of the research reports prepared by the research analysts of RBRO.

Any transaction with financial instruments involves risks among which are included but not limited to: the fluctuation of the prices in the relevant market; the unpredictability of dividends, profitability and profits; the fluctuation of the exchange rates, of the interest rates and of the yields.

This document may include references to financial instruments in relation to which RBRO or any person closely associated with RBRO or part of the same financial group may act as market maker or liquidity provider, lead manager or co-lead manager over the previous 12 months or is party to an agreement with the issuer relating to the provision of investment services offered by RBRO or relating to the production of present report. As well, RBRO or any person closely associated with RBRO or part of the same financial group might have a long or short position at any time, including possibly a position that was accumulated on the basis of the information contained herein prior to its dissemination. RBRO may engage in transactions, for its own account or with customers, in a manner inconsistent with the views taken in this document. Others within RBRO, including strategists, sales staff and other analysts, may take views that are inconsistent with those taken in this document.

This document might have been disclosed to the issuer to which the recommendation, directly or indirectly, relates and might have been subsequently amended.

Unless otherwise expressly stated herein, the analyst that has drafted (or contributed to) this Report is not compensated by RBRO for specific investment banking transactions. Compensation of the analyst or analysts of this Report is based (among other things) on the overall profitability of RBRO, which includes, inter alia, earnings from investment banking and other transactions of RBRO. In general, RBRO prohibits its analysts and persons contributing to the Report to acquire securities or other financial instruments of any company which is covered by the analysts (and contributing persons), unless such acquisition is authorized by RBRO's compliance department in advance.

RBRO has established the following organizational and administrative agreements, including Chinese walls, to impede or prevent conflicts of interest in relation to recommendations: RBRO has designated fundamentally binding confidentiality zones. Confidentiality zones are units within credit institutions, which are isolated from other units by organizational measures governing the exchange of information, because compliance-relevant information is continuously or temporarily processed in these zones.

Reușim împreună.

Compliance-relevant information must not leave a confidentiality zone and is to be treated as strictly confidential in internal business operations, including interaction with other units. This is not applicable to the transfer of information necessary for usual business operations. Such transfer of information is limited, however, to what is absolutely necessary (need-to-know principle). The exchange of compliance-relevant information between two confidentiality zones must only be conducted with the involvement of the compliance officer. RBRO may have effected a proprietary transaction in any investments mentioned herein or in related investments and or may have a position or holding in such investments as a result. RBRO may have acted, or might be acting, as a manager or co-manager in a public offering of any securities mentioned in this Report or in any related security.

The information in this publication is current, up to the dates mentioned in the document and is subject to change without notice. It may be outdated by future developments, without the present publication being changed. RBRO and/or its employees have no obligation to update, modify or amend or otherwise notify a recipient of this Report if the information or recommendation stated herein changes or subsequently becomes inaccurate. The frequency of subsequent reports, if any, remains in the discretion of the author and RBRO.
